

WAYNE WINTER -- ROCHESTER

Nominated by Joe Jennison Rochester Softball Association

When one speaks of playing the outfield with the best and spraying the ball to all fields, Wayne Winter comes to mind.

Playing for Jim and Joe's of Rochester in the 70's, Wayne held down the right field and the middle of Jim and Joe's high average batting line-up.

Hall of Famer Bill Beaupre, likens Wayne's hitting ability to that of Lou Hastert and Mike Macken. All were able to hit the ball all over and over the fence.

John Springer, Class of 2000 Hall of Fame stated, "not only did Wayne exhibit greatness in the game, but also exhibited great sportsmanship. He has to rank in the top one percent in on base average."

Wayne also umpired for many years and continues to give back to the sport through coaching youth and supporting Rochester sports.

Please welcome 2006 Minnesota Softball Hall of Fame inductee, Wayne Winter.
